LOCAL BREVITIES.

A most glorious Fourth of July to all our readers!

Seitz Merchandise Co. tells of more bargains this week.

The tent meeting continues and the attendance is quite large.

Target practice at the rifle range is progressing very satisfactorily.

Arthur Herbert is now in the employ of an accident insurance company.

Geo. R. Gay's new residence on Russell street is about ready for occupancy.

'Tis the season when the "growler" and the "rusher" are frequently in evidence.

Up to the present time the summer visitors are not as numerous as in years past.

The wheat harvesting is pretty well over. Some of the new crop will be in market very soon.

The parochial schools at Pilot Knob and Graniteville spent the day pick-nicking at Arcadia last Thursday.

The railroad is doing an immense freight business. The shipments of Arkansas potatoes northward are very large.

Mr. Geo. Turner has been elected Captain of the Boys' Brigade and is taking the drilling in hand with great vigor.

The Baptist Sunday School will observe Children's Day Sunday evening at eight o'clock. An entertaining programme. All are invited.

Beginning Saturday the post-offices in the west end of the county will be supplied with a daily mail (except Sunday) from the Ironton post-office.

The Rev. Wm. Bardens, rector of Trinity Church, St. Louis, who is visiting at "Valley Home," Arcadia, will preach at St. Paul's Church next Sunday morning.

Rev. W. R. Mays, Presiding Elder, will hold the last Quarterly Meeting for Arcadia station at Fort Hill church Saturday and Sunday, July 1st and 2d. Everybody invited.

A badly needed rain visited this section Sunday afternoon, and for an hour or so the downpour was unusually heavy. The benefit to the growing crops was incalculable.

Drs. Smith & King, osteopaths, will be here to open their sanitarium within the next week. They will locate in a couple of the Emerson cottages in the southern part of town.

The first car of water melons of the season arrived from the St. Louis market Wednesday. They were Texas melons and are several weeks in advance of the Missouri product.

St. Paul's Church. Services next Sunday—7:30 A. M., Holy Communion; 11 A. M., Morning Prayer and Holy Communion; 3 P. M., Baptisms; 8 P. M., Evening Service and Sermon.

Ironton's 4th of July celebration promises to be one of the biggest affairs of the kind ever given in the Southeast. The military features will be especially novel and attractive.

A party of twenty or more young people from Farmington, under the chaperonage of Mrs. Foster, are camped at the dam at Iron Mountain, fishing and enjoying a general outing.

Lost—About Monday, June 19th, between Ironton and Iron Mountain, lady's brown checked cap, lined with dark brown satin. Finder will please return to this office and receive reward.

The editor is in receipt of a card from Mr. Geo. Lopez announcing that he has opened a law office in room No. 420 Lincoln Trust Building, St. Louis. May our young friend attain fame and fortune!

Collins, the Ironton livery man, wants the public to understand that he is better equipped this season than ever before to conduct a livery business. New rigs and new horse. Everything up-to-date.

The editor is indebted to Mrs. W. H. Shelby for a very handsome bouquet of sweet peas, presented last Thursday in honor of the REGISTER's thirty-second birth day. Mrs. Shelby has our sincere thanks.

Lemolo Grover and John Thomas spent a couple of days the first of the week at Iron Mountain fishing. The boys had extraordinary luck and brought home the finest string of crappie and bass we have seen this season.

The end of the present season is near. Lopez's wish to impart the information that ladies in search of fine millinery at prices that cannot be duplicated should call and examine their elegant stock. Satisfaction guaranteed.

John L. Clevlen died at his home in Poplar Bluff Tuesday. Mr. Clevlen was quite well known in Ironton having spent the summer here with his family a couple of years since. Mr. C. was quite a prominent man in Poplar Bluff business circles.

T. A. McFarland of Bellevue is an applicant for the vacancy in the county court occasioned by the death of Judge Sweeney. A petition addressed to Gov. Stephens, asking Mr. McFarland's appointment was circulated and quite generally signed last week.

A trio of young Americans left town last Friday night in search of fame and fortune. Their objective point, so stated, was Florida, but a train from the north Tuesday evening landed them back in Ironton. Doubtless they concluded to defer their trip southward until cooler weather.

Dr. J. D. Nifong of St. Louis writes the REGISTER that he has recently moved his office into the new Mernod-Jaccard Building, Broadway & Locust street. The Dr. wants his Iron county friends to know that the latch string hangs on the outside and he will be pleased to have them call at any time. Room 724.

T. R. Countryman, mining engineer and U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor at Cripple Creek, Colorado, in company with Miss Alma Jazuth of Pilot Knob, paid the editor a pleasant call Tuesday evening. Many years ago Mr. Countryman was employed as a civil engineer at Pilot Knob, and will be well remembered by the older residents.

Collector O'Neal has filed with the abstractor a list of one hundred and fifty tracts of real estate on which suit will at once be instituted to enforce lien for back taxes. Collector O'Neal is determined to clear the delinquent tax book, and people who are in arrears may expect to be notified that suits have been commenced against them in the very near future.

Mr. Henry Barnhouse this week received word that his son, Dr. E. L. Barnhouse, who lives at Mount Sterling, Iowa, had the misfortune recently to break one of his limbs. The Dr. was breaking a colt to a buggy, the animal started to run and in jumping to the ground, the Dr. fractured his leg. He is getting along very well, however, and hopes are entertained for an early recovery.

Miss Gilliam, the fashionable and up-to-date milliner, desires the REGISTER to tell those ladies who have not yet purchased the hat or bonnet they expect to wear on the glorious 4th of July, that she has in her large and well-selected stock just exactly what will please them. And the prices will be found very, very reasonable, indeed. Miss Gilliam cordially urges the ladies in search of millinery to call, and is confident they will not go away dissatisfied.

J. A. Stafford, the livery man from Pilot Knob, had a horse killed by lightning during the storm about noon Wednesday. Mr. Stafford had driven to the range with a load of feedstuff. While he was there the sky darkened and indeed he had a day in June, quickly clouded and a storm came on; of a sudden there was a sharp flash of lightning, and both of Mr. Stafford's horses fell to the ground; in a moment one of them was on his feet again, evidently not badly injured, but the other never moved after falling and was apparently instantly killed.

Mr. Louis Miller, the contractor, has the contract for the erection of three brick structures in the city of Farmington and will carry on the work on all at the same time. He has the contract for the building on Miss Vollath's corner, a building for Mr. Conrad Markert and the brick work on the Farmington realty company on the Lorez corner. Mr. Miller, it will be remembered, bought a beautiful building on the lot just west of the fine residence owned by Dr. F. L. Keith on which he will probably erect a fine residence before the year closes. Our people extend Mr. Miller a cordial welcome to our beautiful little city of schools and churches.—Farmington News.

Dr. Gray received a telegram Tuesday evening announcing the death of Mrs. Dr. L. M. Pettit at Greenville that day. The following account of Mrs. Pettit's death was telegraphed from Greenville to Wednesday's Globe-Democrat: "Mrs. Alice Pettit, wife of Dr. Lee M. Pettit, living one mile from this city, was burned to death to-day. She was starting a fire in the cook stove and poured oil on the fuel. The blaze leaped from the stove and ignited her clothing. After vainly trying to extinguish the flames she ran to a neighbor's lot and plunged into the pond that is there. A neighbor saved her from drowning. She had been so badly burned, however, that she died at 5 o'clock this afternoon."

Fredericktown Democrat: "During the month of May, this year, the city of Fredericktown might have celebrated the centenary of its foundation. It was on the 7th day of May, 1779, that the thirteen original settlers of old St. Michael's addressed a petition to the Spanish Governor, the Spanish governor of Western Illinois, asking for a grant of 5,200 arpents of land between the Saline and Castor creeks. The governor's answer is dated 'St. Louis de Illinois a 12 de Mayo, 1799.' It states that the petitioners merit the favor of the concession, and orders Don Antonio Souillard, the royal surveyor of the district, to put them in possession of the land as requested. These facts are taken from the original documents in French and Spanish, now preserved in the archives of St. Michael's church."

The REGISTER reads with unfeigned surprise the following item published in the last issue of the Salem Monitor: "Press Riley just home from Iron county reports several cases of smallpox and five deaths at the Granite quarries, and two cases are reported on Sinking in this county. He was exposed to the disease while in Iron county." We don't know who Press Riley is but when he says there have been five deaths from smallpox at the granite quarries, he has either been imposed upon by some local joker, or gives evidence of a wonderfully fertile imagination. There is not now nor has been in recent years a case of smallpox at the quarries. Nor is there a case in Iron county. This is the truth, and it is singular that such a report should be made concerning this section. We are sure the Monitor will correct it.

On last Monday Judge Dearing of the Twenty-first district, who is holding a special term of court for Judge Fox, heard the application for bail in the case of Johnson, charged with the murder of Hiram Holladay at Greenville. Senator Smith and Joel Hines appeared for Johnson and Hon. John Raney and Prosecuting Attorney Ing of Wayne county appeared for the state. At the preliminary in Wayne county, Johnson was remanded to jail without bond and his attorneys swore out a writ of habeas corpus. All of the unwholesome evidence produced at the coroner's inquest and preliminary trial was read in open court which consumed the afternoon and the arguments were made after supper. At the conclusion of Senator Smith's argument Judge Dearing admitted the prisoner to bail in the sum of $3,000 which his counsel said he could readily give. The next move of the defense will be an application for a change of venue.—Fredericktown Democrat-News.

Last Thursday evening the band boys shouldered their instruments, including the bass drum, and drove out to the rifle range. A few of the common citizens attended. After an hour's pleasant drive the party disbanded at the entrance to the range, marched to Capt. Hunter's tent, and rendered a selection or two from the band's repertoire. After enjoying the Captain's hospitality for a reasonable time, the boulevard of the main campment was visited, and again the pale glimmers of the moon were made paler by the curious concussion of intermingled sound sent heavenward. The "soldier boys" promptly responded by three rousing cheers and a volley which reverberated among the surrounding mountains. To one and all—Capt. Hunter, Sergeant Koch, and as well to each and every one who gave us such friendly greetings—we desire to return due acknowledgments. Of course the canteen was not overlooked, but when the fact is known that the entire party returned home with not a man hors d' combat nor missing, even the most suspicious will not conclude that the visit was unduly prolonged. The return trip was made about midnight, but even then the incidents of the day were not concluded. At the band-room we found a freezer full of delicious ice-cream—the real thing; no skim-milk affair—awaiting discussion. It was discussed—you may rest assured of that—and the band unanimously resolved that thanks be tendered the donors of the most delightful treat—Mrs. S. T. and Miss Ruth Gay. The kindly feeling dictating the act is duly appreciated by all, from the bass drummer to the other leaders of the organization.

Next Tuesday the Glorious Fourth will again awaken the echoes to the music of patriotism. The increasing fires of American Liberty have glowed for more than one hundred years, until beacon-like they surmount every hill and mountain and illuminate every plain and valley in this broad land, whose confines are beyond the proudest flight of fancy or ken of the founders of the Republic. Man sometimes builds wiser than he knows; the edifice whose corner-stone they laid in peril and dire distress and cemented with their blood to-day towers to the admiring gaze of all the world—a solace to the oppressed, a dread to the despot. Then how fitting the annual celebration of the event that gave birth to this new era in humanity! With heart and voice let us rejoice; for one day, at least, let dissension cease, and every member of this proud commonwealth join in the song of joy and gladness. Our own Arcadia Valley will do itself proud. Arrangements are now perfected for the grandest celebration attempted since the Centennial year, and it is expected that in many particulars the proceedings will be made more interesting than then. Capt. Hunter, commanding Troop K, 3d U. S. Cavalry, now stationed at the Rifle Range, has kindly consented to join with his command in the proceedings, and the sham battle will be the most interesting feature of the day. Rev. Geo. Steel will read the Declaration of Independence, and Hon. Wm. K. Edgar will follow with a patriotic address which will enlist his most fervid eloquence. The cornet band will discourse popo. The games of all kinds and while the passing hours. Refreshments, liquid and solid, will be provided in abundance for all at reasonable rates. Entrance to the grounds free to all. Following is the programme for the day:

Columb will form in North Ironton and march there at 10 o'clock A. M., headed by Capt. Hunter's Troop K, 3d U. S. Cavalry, followed by the Regimental Band, and proceed through the streets to Goulding's Park. The column will be preceded by the Arcadia Valley Cornet Band. At 11 o'clock the Declaration of Independence will be read, followed by an Oration by Hon. Wm. R. Edgar.

A Cure for Constipation.

I was troubled with constipation for several years, and frequently went for nine days without my bowels moving. I spent several dollars for the cure of same, but without success. This last winter a salesman insisted on me buying some Ramon's Liver Pills and Tonic Pellets, remarking that they were the best on earth. I laughed at the idea, but purchased one dozen boxes. Since that time I have used three boxes and am now enjoying the best of health. I recommend them to my customers and the result is I have sold six dozen boxes already.—M. J. Browning, druggist, Germantown, Ky. For sale by Geo. C. Jacobs, druggist.

Free of Charge.

Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at Geo. C. Jacobs drug store, will be presented with a sample bottle of Bosche's German Syrup, free of charge. Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents.

No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as Bosche's German Syrup in all parts of the civilized world. Centenary of Camp-Meetings.

A writer in the July Ladies' Home Journal calls to mind that one hundred years ago—August, 1799—the first camp-meeting for religious worship was held in America. The site of this notable gathering is a short distance from Russellville, in the State of Kentucky. The earlier camp-meetings, it is shown by the Journal's article, were formerly conducted irrespective of denominational lines, but the form of worship soon became, and has since remained, a Methodist institution.

Gravelton Items.

The people of Gravelton seem to be very busy at harvesting. Wheat is cut and has proved a good yield. Grass is being cut—principally clover—and is yielding a very good supply.

Mr. Clarence Whitener and Miss May Hovis were united in the bonds of matrimony last Sunday. They were married at the Lutheran church by Rev. L. M. Wagner, in the presence of quite a large crowd. We wish them a happy life.

It would not surprise the people near here to hear of another one in a very short time.

Miss Lilly Whitener has been sick but is better at present date; also Miss Lou Seagars has been sick for some days, but was able to attend the wedding last Sunday. The last mentioned item may be of interest to some one in Brunot.

Mr. J. L. Bradshaw, our renowned teacher from Tennessee, is talking of returning home in a short time. We hate to see him leave, as he has proved an energetic young man and has been, and would continue to be, a helper in society to the young people of our neighborhood. We are glad to say of his work done while here, that all are pleased—more than pleased.

Mr. John Wagner will teach school in the Burk school district on Castor river. John is a studious boy and we hope to see him prove a success with his school.

Our ball last Friday night was a grand success, several rigs from Ironton and Arcadia, arrived about 9 P. M., and others from St. Louis, Doe Soto and Bismark came on No. 51, making a crowd of about 75 people and you know we had a "hot time." The ball lasted until 4 o'clock. The floor was waxed and smooth which made dancing easy and everybody reported an elegant time. Music was furnished by Hanson and Davis, and being first class, went a long way to the success of the ball. Refreshments were served by Miss Josie Holloman and Mrs. A. E. Bisch. MAUD.

Brunot Items.

Farmers are very busy just now, and some are not done harvesting.

Our little town is improving gradually. C. L. Stevenson, our merchant, has just completed a $3,000 residence.

The smallpox rage has about subsided. Some were scared bad enough to be vaccinated in time of good health. A good idea.

Corn is looking fine, with a good chance of some oats.

Hog cholera! We have plenty of it, and some chicken-pox also.

The institute in our county (Wayne) is not doing much good apparently. Too much politics mixed up with it.
